Self-Advocacy Tips

or

How to get the resources you need

A welfare rights group wrote these tips. They may be helpful in many situations. Please know that there are good people out there who work for many agencies that are very informative and are willing to help you!

1. Be persistent. Don't give up!
2. Make sure you complete and sign an application. Everyone has the right to fill out an application. All denials MUST be in writing.
3. Read all applications and notices carefully and make sure you pay attention to details and dates! Don't wait until the last minute to appeal a denial of benefits.
4. Ask detailed questions about what services are available. Some service providers, particularly state agencies, may not tell you what you are entitled to. Ask lots of questions.
5. DO NOT leave without asking if you are eligible or not. You are entitled to receive written information about what documents you need to provide in order to be eligible to receive benefits.
6. If you are denied benefits or don't get what you think you're entitled to, appeal!!
7. Don't be afraid to file an appeal or ask for a hearing. If appealing for benefits or requesting a fair hearing, you may want to contact your local legal services office for help.
8. Ask to be referred to other resources, particularly if you are denied benefits.
9. If you don't understand, ask someone for help.
10. Everyone has the right to a confidential meeting or private place to discuss your case. You don't have to explain your problem to the receptionist; ask to speak to a caseworker.
11. If you have trouble with a particular worker, you can speak to a supervisor or ask for a different worker.
12. Some service providers will actively try to discourage or disqualify you for benefits that you may need or are in fact entitled to.
13. You may want to bring a friend, relative, or advocate with you when applying for services.
14. Get the names of the people (caseworkers) you talk to. Write down (on a calendar) who you spoke to, why, and the date
15. If you think you are getting inaccurate information, ask to speak to a supervisor.

**Don't leave original documents; ask for copies to be made or bring copies with you.****

Family Resource Centers

Is your child:

- Having serious problems at home?
- Frequently absent, or having serious problems at school?
- Running away from home, or being exploited?

Family Resource Centers (FRCs) can help.

FRC services are voluntary, confidential, community-based, and tailored to meet your family's needs.

FRC services are convenient, with some programs available during evenings and weekends.

Offering parenting programs, support groups, assessment services, and information and referral resources.

FRC-EN 4/24

www.frcma.org

What is a Family Resource Center (FRC)?

Family Resource Centers (FRCs) help families and individuals resolve challenges, strengthen their bonds, connect to others, and engage in their communities. FRCs are located in each of the 14 Massachusetts counties

What does the Family Resource Center do?

FRCs offer parenting programs, support groups, information and referral resources, assessment services, early childhood services and education programs for families whose children range in age from birth to 18 years old.

FRCs also have specific services for families with children who may be frequently absent or have serious problems at school, have serious problems at home, have run away from home, or are being exploited.

FRCs work with parents, children, teens, grandparents, guardians, caregivers, or any other family member or member of the community who may be involved with the family.

FRC staff will assess the needs of the family members, recommend FRC services, and help with access to other community services if needed.

For more information regarding services available at a particular FRC, please contact the FRC directly. Contact information for FRCs can be found at www.fcma.org
